summary: The house was secure. The dead bolts were locked, so either a key was used or someone was inside the residence. The fire department brought us a ladder, so we could check the second floor windows, and they were secure. RP had a recording on her phone of the noise she heard, which sounded like something being dragged on the floor. The neighbor came over and claimed to have seen someone looking out the window of the house. We got permission from the property owner to enter the residence, and we made entry through a window by disassembling the frame. There was obvious signs of rats in the house; however, the sound in the recording did not seem consistent with rats. We cleared the entire house and did not find anyone. It did look like that attic was recently accessed, but it was unoccupied. After thoroughly checking the residence, we resecured the doors and window. RP's cousin came over to stay with her, and we told her to call if anything else happens.

RP concerned about daughter and also sts the mother harasses him. //2314 hrs RP called back inquiring if we can call the mother to have her call him. //2338 hrs RP called back saying mother threatened him by saying "you will never see your daughter again" RP asking again if we can call the mother. ///0023HRS Rp called back and advised his estranged wife just came to his house and threatened to key his vehicle and left his daughter at home.

summary: I called RP, and he said his ex will not stop calling him. He asked me to call her and ask her to stop calling him and inquire about his daughter. He claims to be 100% positive that she left their daughter alone, even though, he would not know who else, if anyone, was at her residence. RP also said his ex's parents continuously call and harass him. I called his ex, and she said he is the one who calls her, and I can look at her call log to see that. She said there is one call to him at approximately 715pm when her daughter called him. Their court papers say the other parent can talk on the phone with the daughter between 7pm and 730pm. She said she never went to his house tonight and has been home all night. She said she is afraid of him and does not know what he may do. I advised her to consider a restraining order against him. I called RP back and told him his daughter was sleeping as she should be. I also pointed out that it was very late to have his daughter awake to talk on the phone. I told him that his ex said he was the one who would not stop calling, and she volunteered her call log as proof. RP said he would volunteer his phone records, but ATT refuses to provided them to him. He said he can prove she was at his house by the gravel marks on his truck. I had to explain that does not prove anything. Then, RP said his neighbor probably saw her at his house. I told RP that based on what I was told by both parties, I did not believe she was there. I told RP that his ex will not be calling him and that he needs to stop calling her./// There was insufficient evidence to support any of the claims made by the RP.///. . Disposition: Log Note.
