The rp and the neighbors shared locks and now the other owners have changed the lock and the rp can no longer get into the gate to get his gravel. summary: I spoke with RP, and he showed me where his chain and lock was removed from the gate. RP claimed to have an easement to access the property. RP asked if they could cut the lock or unbolt the gate hinges to gain access to his property beyond the gate. I told RP that he could not damage someone else's property. I explained to RP that it was a civil matter. RP asked if I could speak with the land owner who owns the gate and ask if they could open the gate at 8 AM or allow him to put his lock back on it. At approximately 0040 hours, I called , and he was not happy that I called him so early in the morning. I told him that RP claimed to have an easement to access his property; denied the claim. I asked him if he would open the gate at 8 AM to allow RP access to RP's property. would not say whether he would or would not allow access. Instead, said he did not understand why he need to open the gate or why I was calling so late. I explained it was a civil matter, and I called him because RP asked me to. I called RP and told him I did not know if was going to open the gate or not. I also re-emphasized that it would be illegal to damage the gate, lock, chain. . Disposition: Civil Problem.
